

NYSDOT Historic Traffic Data Benefits Research

Annual traffic data is typically requested by realtors, banker, investors or private citizens who are interested in the traffic volume around a piece of property or neighborhood. This data set includes multiple years of traffic volume data which can be analyzed to identify traffic trends. Increases or decreases in traffic volume can be identified for specific areas and visualized on a map.